Priest's Message

Sisters and brothers in Christ.

The weather is turning golden after a breath taking green September. As the harvested fields turn brown, we welcome the way the unclad landscape begins to reveal itself and how the silvery Tay moves into more solemn shades of grey, purple and brown as the muddy rains wash away into the sea. It is a moody time.

I have especially loved the many pictures of the Queen laughing and smiling, reading the 'behind the scenes' stories or encounters with people, animals (including her own corgis) and so often in the Scotland we know and love. She was so much the wife, the mun, the grand and great-grandmama! Bless her soul and bless King Charles III as he brings his set of skills and experience to share with us.

On one of my grey days, a friend popped by with the picture of the 'laughing Christ'. Doesn't it do one good to picture Jesus enjoying the hilarious moments of ministry, those times when folk get it wrong - again - or share some cracking joke.

Perhaps we should consider sharing some of those lighter moments with Him, laugh at our own silliness, confiding in Him our vexations about others and ourselves, in a lighter vein. Let's try laughing with Jesus. Also, what about spending more time in nature to see His face sculpted in the trees, the clouds, the swirling waters, the landscapes and rejoice that wherever we are, He is too!

God bless you too, in all you do! Rev Kathy Barrable
